SHERIFF POHLMAN INSTRUCTED TO CUT HIS FORCE TO 500.

Large Body of Men No Longer Required to Preserve Order at St. Louis-An Alleged Dynamiter.

ST. LOUIS, June 22 .- In accordance with instructions issued by the Board of Police Commissioners to Sheriff Pohlman, this afternoon, the posse comitatus will be reduced to five hundred men. It was decided by the police board that the time had come when a large body of armed men were no longer needed to preserve the peace. The men will be paroled, subject to call in case of trouble. Unless the situation grows worse the men will not be recalled until the Fourth of July, when it is expected about 1,500 men will be on duty.

Shortly after dark they arrested two men, one of whom was Havill. in the vicinity of the bridge. His companion was another employe of the Transit Company, named Clarence M. Smith. They explained to the police that they were sent out by the Transit Company to watch the bridge and convinced the officers of their identity after they had shown them two sticks of dynamite and a piece of fuse, which they said they had found in the bushes. The officers released them, but kept a watchful eye on their movements. About an hour later the police observed in the vicinity of the bridge and start to walk toward the city, whereupon the officers arrested them. The chief ordered Havill held and released Smith, who told a straightforward story as to how the dynamite was found by Havill near the bridge. Smith said he knew nothing of the details of the alleged plot save what Havill had told him on the way out.

Havill is a son of Frank W. Havill, clerk of the Appellate Court of the Fourth district of Illinois. Ora Havill was chief clerk of the Southern Illinois penitentlary at Chester for four years. GREAT CO-OPERATIVE SCHEME. Window-Glass Trust Said to Be Planning for a Coup.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MARION, Ind., June 22.-Rumors are affoat in glass circles that the American Window-glass Company, the trust, is preparing to adopt a plan which will revolutionize the window glass trade, and which, if effectual, will be a death blow to the independent window glass factories throughout the country. It is said that the American Company contemplates transforming itself into a co-operative concern with a capital stock of $17,000,000. The proposition of the American is to make each of its livan county, as a result of a runaway skilled workmen a member of the company by presenting him with a block of stock. No charge will be made for such stock, the workmen merely being asked to take an interest in the business and help themselves by making a better quality of glass than ever before turned out. The workmen will draw dividends on their stock in addition

Glass men say this is the biggest p tion ever made to its employes by any company, and that it cannot but become effectual, and will inevitably put the independents out of business. The plan outined contemplates the presentation of $500 in stock to each of the 4,000 workers in the trust employ, a total of $2,000,000, to be added to the present capital of $15,000,000. Besides giving the trust control of the window glass situation, this plan undoubtedly would result in securing to the company all the best workers in the trade, strengthening the price situation to the extent that the additional dividends would scarcely be felt by the regular stock-holders, if, indeed, it did not result in a still higher dividend rate. The workmen here take kindly to the idea. They say that there is no reason why dividends should not be made equal or superior to the high returns of past years, when 125 to 150 per cent, have been paid, and they are hopeful of being able to pocket several hundred dollars more, an-ANDERSON, Ind., June 22.-The report current here that the window-glass trust special to the Indianapolis Journal. WABASH, Ind., June 22 .- The flood incldent to the downpour of rain which began yesterday and continued until to-day. has burst the main which carries the city's water supply, and Wabash is without fire protection and with a deficiency of water for domestic uses. The main passes under was discovered that not a gallon of water was going into the standpipe and investigation proved that the big main had sprung a joint. It could not be located and is believed to be in the river, and if this is true the water supply will be cut of

for two or three days. Not in the recollection of the oldest in habitant of this city has a larger volume of water fallen than descended in this city and neighborhood between noon yesterday and 9 o'clock this morning. There was not which has carried away dozens of bridges, forced all streams out of their beds and completely flooded the low lands of the Wabash. Six bridges across small streams and ditches between here and Lafontaine, on the turnpike, are carried away, two bridges, one a new Iron one, over Treaty creek are gone, and the Siferd and Thompson dwellings, in the Treaty creek bottoms, were swept from their foundations

The Big Four Railroad came in for a share of trouble. As freight No. 64, coming north, approached Treaty this morning it encountered a culvert weakened by the flood. The engine and two cars passed over, but twelve cars went down with the Gangs are at work on the wreck, but cannot open the road before to-morrow. The river was still rising and threatens yet to overflow the bottoms in the city which are built up thickly with homes and factories. Farmers say that corn and oats in low ground are all washed out and will be a total loss. CLOUDBURST AT FT. WAYNE.

Three Bridges Were Destroyed-Citizens Rescued by the Police. pecial to the Indianapolis Journal.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., June 22.-This city was visited by a cloudburst this morning and losses aggregating many thousands of dollars resulted. Shawnee run, a small stream traversing the South Side, rose twelve feet in two hours and inundated a district a mile long and half a mile wide. Three bridges were carried away and great damage was done to property. The police were put at work with boats taking people out of submerged houses. Another creek in the eastern part of the county was also swelled by the cloudburst and spread over the country nearly a mile in width, causing great damage to farm property. In a few hours the waters sub-
